Another Wheat Market

The Minneapolis millers are now able to buy and grind Canadian wheat for export. Tariff regulation have been promulgated in Washington which makes this possible. The wheat will go to Minneapolis and the flour pass on from there, in bond. The millers however, will be able to market the by-products in United States, upon a payment of a duty of 20 per cent. on the original value. This latter provision will make the grinding of Canadian wheat a profitable business in Minneapolis. For some reason unknown except to wheat speculators, Canadian wheat sells 10 cents lower than Dakota wheat, at present. This lower price will create a demand in Minneapolis for Canadian wheat, and under legitimate trade regulation should have a tendency to equalize wheat prices on both sides of the international boundary. At any rate it will provide a new market for western wheat, and that in itself will be beneficial. We will wait for definite results.

Scores of people in this community complain that they are unable to get enough sleep. In several instances people have slept for fifteen to twenty-four hours and still were sleepy. They attribute this inclination to sleep to Halley's comet.

Ship Building at Port Arthur.

The contract for the construction of the Western Dry Dock and Ship Building Company plant has been awarded to the Canadian Stewart Company. The cost of the whole will be upwards of $1,000,000. The company has the assurance of two big steel freighters to build when the plant is completed, and they hope to lay the keel the first of next year. Work will also start soon on the Port Arthur Steel and Wagon Works plant. This will be the largest and finest equipped wagon works in Canada, and will have a big foundry attached.

Cargo of Steel for G. T. P.

The steamer 'Tropea,' the largest to enter the new harbor of Prince Rupert, is now discharging a cargo of steel for the Grand Trunk Pacific. By the time she is ready to clear the docks the steamer 'Cape Breton' will be in the harbor with another cargo of steel for the same company. The Pacific Coast Stevedoring Company are doing the unloading, which occupies about a week for each vessel.

Musical Festival Meeting

A meeting was recently held at Claresholm of the Southern Alberta Musical Association, at which all the towns interested were asked to have one or two members present. Five places sent representatives, Okotoks, High River, Cayley, Nanton and Claresholm, Rev. Mr. Beaton being sent from this village. A great deal of important business was put through, among which were the following items:

The next competitive meeting will be held at High River. According to the constitution, the president and secretary of the musical organisation of the town where the festival is to be held next are to be the president and secretary of the association for the year. This makes Mr. Gigot of High River head for this year. Along with these will be two representatives from each of the towns entering, the whole forming the executive committee.

There will be no second prizes.

Prizes for the Quartettes and other groups will be music or instruments that will aid the work.

The shield for the mixed chorus is to be held as a permanent trophy by the Society which wins it oftenest in the first five contests of the Association.

All are to suggest music for the next contest, and the whole will be placed in the hands of an outside adjudicator, who will make from them the program for the next year.

From the above it might be noted that if Cayley is to do its part there must be an organization at once. A meeting should be called and arrangements made for the work of next winter and in assisting the next festival as far as it is possible. By planning at once there will be no delay in the fall. Perhaps some others have something to write on the matter.

The August weather that we have been having has been very enjoyable, but the farmers would like a little more rain.

A very sad accident happened in Nanton last Monday afternoon when Mr. C. Osburne of Kansas, aged 47, was run over and killed by a freight train in the C. P. R. yards. Mr. Osburne had just come into the country, intending to start up in the harness business. Deceased leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss. Mrs. Osburne was on her way to Alberta when the accident happened.

Barley as a Hog Feed and a Weed Eradicator

Hogs are a class of live stock that are worthy of more attention than they do receive at the hands of the farmers of this district.

The climate of Southern Alberta is well adapted for the raising of these animals and also for the production of the best and most economical class of feed. Early barley as a feed is practically equal to corn and can be grown successfully under different varieties of soil and conditions.

When land gets badly infested with weeds, wild oats in particular, there is no crop that will clean it and at the same time produce a paying crop like barley.

Six-rowed barley can be sown as late as the middle of June and still make a good yield of mature grain. The writer has sowed on the 11th of June and harvested as high as 40 bushels per acre, having it cut previous to wheat sown in April.

This shows the time that is allowed for early cultivation of a weedy field. The summer fallowing of this field the next year will clean it of wild oats better than any other method known, to my mind. It is advisable to sow as much as two bushels per acre when sowing as late as the middle of June. The government pork packing scheme should receive the support of the farmers of northern and central Alberta alone. It will pay us to give it our support—from a co-operation as well as a financial point of view.

A bulletin of the Colorado Agricultural College says barley, as a hog feed, will produce a meat of better flavor and superior quality than corn, and the amount of meat it is capable of producing per acre is fully as great as the best corn in the corn belt. Eight hundred pounds of pork per acre have been produced on barley in Colorado, a meat yield rivaling the very best of the corn belt.

The highest priced pork on the market at present is barley fed pork from Denmark. It commands this higher price in the English markets on account of its superior quality. It does this in spite of the fact that it competes with the very best American corn-fed product. With a feed like this which we can grow so well and so cheap, why should we be importing meat of a poorer quality than we can raise at home.

Cayley News

Braemar school is closed just now. It is expected that a teacher will soon be secured.

The shipping business continues brisk at the stockyards, work going on night and day sometimes.

There is no doubt that the winter wheat is being killed out by the continued dry weather. Some very good fields can be seen near Cayley, however.

In spite of the coming of Silver Lake City, real estate keeps moving and advancing in price. Several sales have just gone through among the village properties.

It looked like rain for a while Tuesday afternoon and there was a hunt for slickers and umbrellas. But the wind took a shift to the northward and a snow squall resulted instead. The ground was pretty well powdered Wednesday morning. A curious phenomenon was that earth and air seemed to be pervaded with static electricity to an unusual degree. In the McBride Lake region, for instance, whoever touched a wire fence during the evening got a smart shock, and where two wires came in contact there was a fine display of sparks.—MacLeod Advertiser.
